

VALUATION & FORENSIC ACCOUNTING SERVICES FOR DIVORCE

At Adamy Valuation, our proven track record in expert testimony and successful resolution of financial matters in divorce empowers individuals to move forward with clarity and confidence. Business valuations and income determinations for support are often the most complex and contentious aspects of a divorce. We take pride in delivering unbiased, objective financial guidance to address these and other key financial concerns. Our team provides independent, credible opinions, backed by expert witness testimony, to simplify financial complexities and foster equitable resolutions.

OUR SERVICES

- Expert witness testimony
- Valuation of closely-held business interests
- Determination of income for support
- Active/passive income analysis and tracing
- Marital balance sheet calculation
- Alternative dispute resolution support

Why a Valuation Matters

When either party holds unrealistic expectations about the value of assets, resolving the divorce becomes significantly more difficult. The longer the process drags on, the more costly and emotionally draining it becomes for everyone involved. An independent valuation from a credible, objective expert is essential for setting realistic expectations, enabling both parties and their attorneys to move toward a resolution more efficiently.

Why Choose Adamy

Top divorce attorneys trust Adamy because of our experienced expert witnesses, who have a proven track record of testifying in even the most contentious divorce cases. Our credibility stems from a solid foundation of expertise, professional credentials, and a rigorous, thorough process. We help clients navigate the toughest financial challenges in divorce, allowing families to move forward with confidence.
